

Meridian is a design with maximum comfort for the end user in mind. Meridian not only fits seamlessly into any environment, but Meridian comes in three models. Each model offers a unique seating difference. A standard, optimal comfort seat, a mechanised slide out, reclining function seat and the new Postureglide® which changes the seating position at a touch of a button. These features are designed to accommodate individual differences and ensure your choice of ultimate comfort. The adjustable seats can be locked to each individual's preferred setting to provide maximum personal comfort.

Meridian is built around engineered steel frames incorporating the advanced Postureflex® and Postureglide® seating system for a lifetime of comfort and durability. Pictured in pure aniline TrueTouch leather, Meridian is available in your choice of tailored fabric or thick, European leather removable covers.
